

Efi Argyrou graduated in 1979 from the School of Philosophy of Aristotle University of Thessaloniki (Department of History). In 1983 she received the title of DEA d' histoire byzantine et post Byzantine from "Université de Paris I - Sorbonne", in 1996 her Ph.D on history from the same University and in 1999 the Certificate of the Postgraduate Training Programme "Open and Distance Learning" of the School of Humanities of Hellenic Open University. She taught Modern Greek History in the University of Ioannina (department at Agrinio) (407 contract) and has been teaching History in the Hellenic Open University since 2005 (General History of Europe and Social and Economic History of Europe). She has also been invited for lectures to post graduate students by the University of Crete, Ioannina and Athens. She has participated as a trainer in seminars on the teaching of history to secondary education teachers for several years. She has participated in international conferences in Greece and abroad with research based on original archival material. Her publications focus on economic, social and cultural phenomena, 16th-18th c, and on the teaching of history.